The Most Holy Trinity

Year C
26th May 2013

Jesus has described himself as one with the Father. As time goes on, his teachings will not be changed but will become clearer to his followers.

The Holy Spirit he promises will guide them into the depths of the words he has spoken. They will come to realise and to give expression to the wonder of God who is Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

Feast of The Most Holy Trinity

Today is the Feast of The Most Holy Trinity in which we celebrate the great mystery of one nature in three beings - a mystery in which even the great theologian Saint Augustine, despite his best effort, was never able to resolve. The infinite love that binds each Person of the Trinity, Father, Son and Spirit is so close as to be completely at one with one another. That is an example from which we each can draw support to work towards that same oneness in our relationships with each other and with God. We are also reminded of the obligation for us to have received the Sacrament of Reconciliation between Ash Wednesday and Trinity Sunday. That obligation carries with it the taint of serious sin.

Diocesan Works Funds

Today we are extending a further invitation to you to contribute to this fund that is so critical to both the operation and charitable works of our Diocese and Parish. Should you have not contributed last week, please kindly give serious consideration to making a donation today. Envelopes are on each pew and should be placed in the second collection. Many thanks to all who have so far contributed to this round of DWF on behalf of all parishioners.

Commissioning of SREs

Following today's homily, our Special Religious Education Ministers will be formally commissioned into the roles they have within the three public schools within our parish. In association with that commissioning, there is an opportunity for each parishioner also to make a commitment to support this community. To that end, the following liturgy will form part of the Rite of Commissioning:

Commitment of the Community

Celebrant: My brothers and sisters, realising that we all share in this ministry of Special Religious Education, do you pledge your support for these parishioners of ours called by God from out of our midst and commissioned by us as SREs in our parish religious education program?

Community: We do.

Celebrant: Will you endeavour through prayer and witness to be ministers of God's Word to each other so that we may grow together in sharing in this work of the Lord?

Community: We will.

Celebrant: Let us continue with our liturgy, seeking our Father's blessing on this work which we undertake.

Community: Amen.

Living the Gospel - Trinity

Every time we make the sign of the cross we reaffirm our belief in a God who is Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Although some people have difficulties with the gender-specific language of 'Father' and 'Son' and look for other ways to express this reality, all Christian people profess a belief in the one God who is experienced in three distinct ways. We are baptised 'in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit' and we remind ourselves of this reality when we pray and when we bless ourselves or others. - from LiturgyHelp

A Vocation View

Human beings establish lasting loving bonds. But the Trinity shows us perfect love: you, God and neighbour. There's nothing more than love.

Dance, dancer and dancing

When I was chaplain at the university, the gardener came in one afternoon and asked, "What's all this about the Trinity?" I responded by asking what the teaching meant to him. This is a summary of what he said: "I think of the Father as the dance. I think of the Son as the dancer. I think of the Holy Spirit as the dancing. It is our experience of the dancing Spirit that enables us to recognise the dancer, Jesus, who reveals his Father, the dance." (Michael - Church below the Rooftops)

Trinity Song

Frank Andersen MSC

Father, in my life I see,
you are God who walks with me.
You hold my life in your hands.
Close beside you I will stand.
I give all my life to you,
help me, Father, to be true!

Jesus, in my life I see,
you are God who walks with me.
You hold my life in your hands.
Close beside you I will stand.
I give all my life to you,
help me, Jesus, to be true!

Spirit, in my life I see,
you are God who walks with me.
You hold my life in your hands.
Close beside you I will stand.
I give all my life to you,
help me, Spirit, to be true!
